ACKNOWLEDGMENT:

We would like to extend a special thanks to the individuals and organizations who took the time to provide information, data, and feedback for this Needs Assessment and Resource Inventory. In particular, we thank those who participated in the focus groups and the Opinionated People Party, who completed questionnaires and surveys, who participated in interviews, and who provided feedback on interim reports and earlier versions of this assessment.

FUNDING:

The Surry County Needs Assessment was funded by a grant from the Governor's Office of Substance Abuse Prevention with the Governor's portion of funds from the United States Safe and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act of 2001, Title IV, part A of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001. The Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance number is 84-186.

II. AMERICA'S PROMISE: 5 PROMISES

(Key developmental resources that correlate with success), Http://www.americaspromise.org

A. CARING ADULTS

Every child and youth needs and deserves support and guidance from caring adults in their families, schools, and communities, including ongoing, secure relationships with parents and other family adults, as well as multiple and consistent formal and informal positive relationships with teachers, mentors, coaches, youth volunteers, and neighbors.

B. SAFE PLACES AND CONSTRUCTIVE USE OF TIME

Every child and youth needs and deserves to be physically and emotionally safe everywhere they are — from the actual places of families, schools, neighborhoods and communities to the virtual places of media — and to have an appropriate balance of structured, supervised activities and unstructured, unscheduled time.

C. A HEALTHY START AND HEALTHY DEVELOPMENT

Every child and youth needs and deserves the healthy bodies, healthy minds, and healthful habits and choices resulting from regular well-child/youth health care and needed treatment, good nutrition and exercise, comprehensive health knowledge and skills, and role models of physical and psychological health.

D. EFFECTIVE EDUCATION FOR MARKETABLE SKILLS AND LIFELONG LEARNING

Every child and youth needs and deserves the intellectual development, motivation, and personal, social, emotional, and cultural skills needed for successful work and lifelong learning in a diverse nation, as a result of having quality learning environments, challenging expectations, and consistent formal and informal guidance and mentoring.

E. OPPORTUNITIES TO MAKE A DIFFERENCE THROUGH HELPING OTHERS

Every child and youth needs and deserves the chance to make a difference — in their families, schools, communities, nation and world — through having models of caring behavior, awareness of the needs of leadership and service.

APPENDIX D: FOCUS GROUP CONVERSATIONS AND QUESTIONNAIRES

Between November 27, 2006, and February 23, 2007, Surry County sponsored two focus groups of community leaders, held a community forum, called the “Opinionated People Party,” for the youth and adults of Surry County, and distributed 1905 questionnaires around the Surry County Community. Following are summaries of the focus group and Opinionated People Party conversations and the questionnaires those participants completed. Appendix D summarizes the results of the community-wide survey.

FALL 2006 FOCUS GROUPS

CONVERSATIONS

On November 27 and December 6, 2006, the Office on Youth sponsored two focus groups with community leaders to discuss Surry County’s strengths and challenges as well as the groups’ goals for the county’s future. Following is a summary of the two discussions.

Concerns for Surry County:

Both focus groups stressed the need for planned economic growth that retains the community’s character. They emphasized the need for more jobs, better transportation and more affordable housing. They were also concerned that young people (18-25) left the community because there were not sufficient economic opportunities for them.

The focus groups also recognized a need for more role models and more activities for young people in the county. They hoped to see more parental involvement, especially male involvement, in their children’s activities, and fewer grandchildren living with parents. They hoped to see stronger schools and alternative education offered within Surry County.

Hopes for the County in 5 Years:

When asked what headline they would like to see in 5 years that would show remarkable progress for the county, both focus groups hoped the county could develop additional retail and economic opportunities without losing its character and quality of life. They hoped for more health care facilities and professionals, more parental involvement, improved recreation, better alternatives for seniors, and broadband Internet.

Surry County’s Resources to Help Reach its Goals:

The focus groups suggested many of the resources found in Appendix C as resources that Surry County’s residents can use to help reach the goals and aspirations that the focus groups had set. They also mentioned Surry County’s citizens and the resources of other counties.

Other Comments: One person made each of the following comments, which may or may not reflect the beliefs of others in the focus groups.

1. Surry County housing reflects a lifestyle choice. Wealthier people are moving to the county.
2. Some “affordable housing” (<$200,000) proposals have been turned down because the schools and/or the roads can’t handle the extra people. Query: Is this true or based on stereotypes?
3. Those in the judicial system appear unwilling to refer people to private resources for substance abuse counseling.

One Project for the Community:

1. Bring in more business
2. Improve recreation center with roller skating, bowling and/or an all-in-one complex with health dept., library, and other community services in the same building

Priorities

The participants in the Dec. 6 focus group were asked to rank their top 3 concerns. Jobs, housing and transportation, all of which fit within the category of economic stability, were three of the top four priorities. Education was the second priority. Recreation, health, technology, safety, and healthy families were distant priorities.

	1	2	3	Total
Jobs	9	3	1	34
Housing	2	3	6	18
Transportation	3	3	0	15

YOUTH CONVERSATION

Surry Strengths:

Surry's students appreciate their school system, its after-school programs, and the recreational activities that are available to youth. They specifically mentioned the STEP program and Young Male Involvement as effective programs. They appreciated the area's historical value, the ferry, and the fact that it is not too urbanized. They also mentioned the local churches and the sense of community (teamwork) as factors that emphasize Surry's strengths.

Surry's Challenges:

Most of the youth's discussion of Surry's challenges revolved around education. They would like to see upgrades to the high school, a vocational/trade school, another Head Start, healthier lunches at school, a full time nurse in the schools, and an end to disciplinary problems. They also wanted more community involvement, better waste management, and a long term growth plan.

Hopes for Surry County

Almost the entire conversation concerned better activities for youth. The youth would like to see a new playground, a skating rink, more after school activities, more school activities, better places to shop, and a Boys and Girls Club. The students would like to see a Youth of the Year award for a student who keeps an A or B average, helps others, is kind to others, and participates in the community.
